Professional Designations:

Certified Public Accountant (CPA): Michigan CPA License currently held in "Registered Only" status. Mr. King does not complete the yearly continuing education requirement and does not hold himself out as a practicing public accountant. Please read the following CPA license requirements and definition of the CPA License in Registered Only vs. Active License status.

Certified Public Accountant (CPA) CPAs are licensed and regulated by their state boards of accountancy. While state laws and regulations vary, the education, experience and testing requirements for licensure as a CPA generally include minimum college education (typically 150 credit hours with at least a baccalaureate degree and a concentration in accounting), minimum experience levels (most states require at least one year of experience providing services that involve the use of accounting, attest, compilation, management advisory, financial advisory, tax or consulting skills, all of which must be achieved under the supervision of or verification by a CPA), and successful passage of the Uniform CPA Examination. In order to maintain a CPA license in active status, states generally require the completion of 40 hours of continuing professional education (CPE) each year (or 80 hours over a two year period or 120 hours over a three year period). Additionally, all American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) members¹ are required to follow a rigorous Code of Professional Conduct which requires that they act with integrity, objectivity, due care, competence, fully disclose any conflicts of interest (and obtain client consent if a conflict exists), maintain client confidentiality, disclose to the client any commission or referral fees, and serve the public interest when providing financial services. The vast majority of state boards of accountancy have adopted the AICPA's Code of Professional Conduct within their state accountancy laws or have created their own.

CPA License in Registered Only vs. Active License

A CPA is considered to be in "Registered Only" status in the state of Michigan if the individual still holds a CPA certificate, but does not maintain an active license by completing the yearly continuing education requirement as mandated by Michigan law. It is okay for an individual to use the CPA designation while in "Registered Only" status, as long as they do not hold themselves out as practicing public accounting to the public. While in "Registered Only" status, the individual:

- Can use the CPA credential on their business card,
- Prepare and sign a tax return, but cannot use the CPA designation
- Cannot provide public attestation (including auditing) opinions on financial statements

Cathie's Tote And Dine, Inc. filed for Bankruptcy on February 3, 2000. The case was in the US Bankruptcy Court-Western District of Michigan Case #0-00803 Chapter 7 Bankruptcy. This corporate bankruptcy was concluded June 26th, 2001 and the corporation was dissolved. The closure of the company resulted from irreconcilable differences within an ongoing lease negotiation for two of our company's locations owned by the same landlord.
