The CPA designation means Certified Public Accountant. Administered by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, minimum qualifications to obtain the CPA designation include minimum college education hours, the passing of an exam, and in some cases specific work experience. Once the designation is earned, maintenance of the credential requires minimum continuing education requirements.

The PFS designation means Personal Financial Specialist. Administered by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, this designation is available only to CPAs who also complete and maintain requirements similar in nature to that of a Certified Financial Planner, including the initial passing of a test and continuing education.

Item 3: Disciplinary Action

There are no legal or disciplinary events material to a client's or prospective client's evaluation of our principals or supervised persons.

Item 4: Other Business Activities

- A. None of our principals or supervised persons are actively engaged in any other investment-related business or occupation, nor are any of them registered, or have an application pending to register, as a broker-dealer, registered representative of a broker-dealer, futures commission merchant ("FCM"), commodity pool operator ("CPO"), commodity trading advisor ("CTA"), or an associated person of an FCM, CPO, or CTA.
- B. All of our principals and supervised persons are also principals or employees and practitioners with Harrison Berkman and Claypool, PLLC ("Accounting Firm"), a certified public accounting firm that shares office space and administrative personnel with us. This business activity does provide us with a substantial source of income as well as involve a substantial amount of our time.

Item 5: Additional Compensation

No one who is not a client provides an economic benefit to our principals or supervised persons for providing advisory services.

Item 6: Supervision

Supervision includes substantial training in using our tools and methodology for providing both financial planning and investment advisory services. Due to the small size of our firm, we are also able to maintain ongoing in-depth dialogues with each other concerning all of our clients. This serves two purposes: 1) provides automatic review of ideas, plans, and advice to be given to our clients, and 2) allows any of us to step in for another if necessary. Therefore we are all responsible for supervising each other's advisory activities on behalf of our firm.

Item 7: Requirements for State-Registered Advisers

- A. None of our principals or supervised persons has been involved in any of the following:
 - 1. An award or otherwise being found liable in an arbitration claim alleging damages in excess of $2,500.
