1. Advisory Business

Jacobus Wealth Management, Inc. (“JWM”) is a multi-family office. We provide investment advisory and family office services to over 60 families. Our mission is to help clients achieve financial goals and personal well-being through a disciplined and customized approach to intergenerational issues.

JWM was founded more than 25 years ago as a single family office serving members of the Jacobus family. In 1996, JWM became a multi-family office and registered with the SEC as an Investment Adviser. Richard G. Jacobus, the founder and current Vice Chairman and Treasurer of JWM, controls the majority of the stock of the company, and no other shareholder owns more than 25% of the outstanding shares.

The management of JWM is the following officers. We have included Brochure Supplements for each of the members of the firm that provide investment advice at the end of this brochure.

- Peter J. Bach, Chairman and CEO
- Richard G. Jacobus, Vice Chairman and Treasurer
- Nicholas C. Wilson, Vice Chairman
- M. Dale Fritz, Executive Vice President and Chief Investment Officer
- Robert R. Lapointe, Vice President and Chief Compliance Officer
- Dan Matola, Vice President
- Janice M. D’Amour, Vice President and Controller

JWM provides investment advisory services on both a discretionary and non-discretionary basis. At December 31, 2010, we had $578 million of assets under management, of which $316 million was discretionary and $262 million was non-discretionary.

We develop a customized investment policy for each client, depending on their risk tolerance, income needs and liquidity requirements, and an asset allocation strategy to implement the investment policy. As part of this process, clients may restrict sale of legacy positions, or prohibit investment in specific securities or industries. This policy and asset allocation strategy is reviewed with the client at least quarterly and amended as appropriate with changing client needs and capital market outlook. JWM cannot alter the investment policy or asset allocation strategy without the consent of the client.

JWM assigns a Registered Advisor (“RA”) of JWM to each client as the lead relationship manager. The client normally has contact with several of RAs and support staff of JWM in the normal course of their account management.
We then implement the strategy using several asset classes, including:

i) Separate account managers recommended by JWM;
ii) Mutual funds;
iii) Exchange Traded Funds (“ETF”);
iv) Individual securities, including stocks, bonds, options, and warrants; and,
v) Alternative investments.

Investing in such securities involves varying degree of risk, and in the case of alternatives, lack of liquidity. JWM advises clients on the risk of loss of invested assets for each of the asset classes used in their portfolio.

The Investment Committee is composed of Messrs. Bach, Jacobus, Wilson, Fritz, Lapointe and Matola, along with two non-voting members. The Investment Committee meets at least monthly and more often as required. The committee approves all separate account managers, alternative investments and all of the securities of the various asset classes for client use.

JWM performs due diligence on all of the approved separate account managers. We meet with each manager at least annually, and monitor their performance and style consistency on a monthly basis.

We maintain an approved list of mutual funds, closed-end funds, exchange traded funds and individual securities. The Investment Committee reviews the list monthly, making additions and deletions as appropriate.

In addition to investment advisory services, we also provide family office services, including:

i) Family administration and records retention;
ii) Tax advisory and administration;
iii) Fiduciary advisory and administration;
iv) Charitable gifting and foundation administration;
v) Estate administration and settlement;
vi) Insurance advisory and administration;
vii) Family education and advisory; and,
viii) Partnership/entity accounting.
2. Fees and Compensation

JWM primarily charges investment advisory fees as a percentage of assets under administration ("AUM"). We have three fee schedules, depending on the level of service provided. We may charge a minimum annual fee, and we determine this on a case-by-case basis, depending on the size and level of services. In addition, JWM charges a flat fee or an hourly charge for certain family offices services, such as entity management or bill paying, which are not included in the investment advisory service. We bill fees in advance quarterly.

We send a detailed invoice to the clients, which the client is responsible for verifying, and generally deduct the fees directly from the account of the client(s).

The three schedules are:

i)  Wealth Advisory, which is a basic investment advisory service, generally offered to clients with accounts of between $500,000 and $3,000,000;

ii)  Custom Select, which includes the services in Wealth Advisor plus a more detailed needs analysis and existing portfolio review; and,

iii)  Custom Select Plus, which includes all of Custom Select plus additional estate and retirement planning and expanded investment services.

We generally charge 0.7% or 70 basis points ("bps") on assets under management for the Wealth Advisory service. We charge fees for the Custom Select and the Custom Select Plus according to the following table:

JWM has a separate fee schedule for entity management and foundation administration. These fees are in addition to any investment advisory fees paid by the client. We assess these fees based on the assets of the entity or foundation according to the following schedule:

We may discount the above fee schedules depending on the complexity and size of the client account.

3. Performance Based Fees

We do not charge performance based fees.

JWM does not have any pooled investment funds that it offers to clients who are not members of the extended Jacobus family. Mr. Jacobus, through his personal LLC is the general partner of four limited partnerships, the partners of which are members of the extended Jacobus family. Mr. Bach, through his personal LLC, is the general partner of one limited partnership, the partners of which are members of the Jacobus family. We do not offer participation in these funds to clients who are not members of the extended Jacobus family.

4. Types of Clients

JWM provides investment advice and family office services to individuals, trusts, charitable and non-profit entities, partnerships and corporations.

5. Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies, and Risk of Loss

JWM has general allocation frameworks for conservative, moderate growth and aggressive growth portfolios. JWM tailors an asset allocation specifically to each client’s objectives and risk tolerance.

Every allocation has a risk of loss of principal in the securities used. Clients should be aware that they should be prepared to bear these losses.
JWM develops an economic and capital market outlook. We review this outlook at least quarterly. Based on this outlook, Investment Committee determines asset classes to overweight or underweight with new investments and re-positioning of portfolios.

JWM has an approved securities list of mutual funds and exchange-traded funds (“ETFs”). Mutual funds are individually analyzed using services such as Morningstar which includes rating, past long term performance relative to a benchmark and absolutely, investment style, portfolio manager turnover and other indicators of performance. ETFs are analyzed as to performance, investment style, use of leverage, use of derivatives and other synthetic securities, and liquidity. Once approved, their performance is reviewed monthly by the Investment Committee.

JWM watches separate account managers for a period of up to a year before they are selected. During that time, JWM meets directly with the portfolio managers, reviews performance attributes, confirms custodians and auditors, reviews any wrap program participation, and monitors changes in assets under management. Once approved, JWM monitors their performance monthly, including style drift and attribution, and meets with the portfolio managers at least annually.

JWM analyzes both the issuer and offering for each alternative investment. We compose a separate recommendation memo on each transaction for the Investment Committee, and provide this memo to clients to whom we recommend the offering. The clients make the final decision on any alternative investment, and contract directly with the issuer. JWM may receive fee discounts from an alternative investment issuer, and we pass all of these discounts to participating clients pro-rata to their investments.

JWM invests client portfolios according to the client’s allocation and strategy, using some or all of the above securities. Generally, JWM does not put more than 5% of the portfolio in any single security.

6. Disciplinary Information

Neither JWM nor any of its employees is or has been:

i) The subject of, convicted or pled no contest in a domestic, foreign or military court to any felony, investment related misdemeanor, fraud, false statements, wrongful taking of property, bribery, perjury, forgery counterfeiting, or extortion;

ii) The object of any order, judgment or decree limiting or restricting investment-related activity:

iii) Found to have caused the loss of authorization to do business, or found to be involved in a violation of any rule, regulation or statute under any proceedings before the SEC, or any self-regulatory organization.
7. Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

We provide limited real estate services to clients through JWM Real Estate, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary registered in Wisconsin as a Real Estate Company. Mr. Lapointe is the Managing Director of JWM Real Estate, Inc. and a licensed Real Estate Broker in Wisconsin. We may offer property management services as part of our financial secretariat services, and may provide other real estate services to our clients. JWM does not actively engage in the business of real estate brokerage.

Mr. Jacobus is the Managing Member of RGJ Management, LLC, which serves as the general partner of four investment-related limited partnerships. Mr. Bach is the Managing Member of P.J. Bach, LLC which serves as the general partner of an investment-related partnership. All the partners of these partnerships are part of the extended family of Mr. Jacobus’ father. JWM provides investment services to these partnerships but does not solicit clients who are not part of the Jacobus family to invest in the partnerships.

Mr. Jacobus has a nephew that is a principal of RCP Advisors, LLC (“RCP”), and a manager of fund-of-funds private equity partnerships. The Jacobus family partnerships and other clients of JWM have invested in RCP funds, and we may recommend participation in future RCP funds to clients. Neither JWM nor Mr. Jacobus has any financial interest or advisor relationship with RCP.

8. Code of Ethics

JWM adopted a Code of Ethics that includes general business practices, restrictions on personal trading, and reporting and disclosure requirements. In addition, employees that hold professional designations such as CFA and CPA are also bound by the codes of ethics of their respective organizations.

Neither JWM nor any of its employees trade as principal with a client without first disclosing the conflict to the client, and obtaining their written permission.

Some of JWM principals are also clients of JWM. They may trade in securities that are also recommended to clients. If there is a liquidity concern, or there is a limited supply of securities such as in some alternatives, client orders are filled before JWM principal orders. Where there is a general sale recommendation of a security, JWM principals generally either participate in a block trade where all clients receive the same price, or place their orders after client sales have been completed.

JWM will provide a copy of its Codes of Ethics to a client or prospective client upon request.
9. Brokerage Practices

JWM recommends to clients that they custody their assets at one of two custodians with whom JWM has a relationship. Both of the custodians offer competitive flat-rate trade pricing, and JWM generally trades through one of these custodians. JWM may trade through another broker if the client directs us to do so, or where trust assets are custodied with a Trust company and the Trust company directs us to do so.

Our two primary custodians provide clients with web access to research and security valuations. They provide JWM more extensive research and modeling because of our relationship. This is available to all investment advisors that have a relationship with these advisors.

Our two primary custodians periodically provide seminars and conferences on various investment and other RIA topics, to which JWM may send one or more employees. JWM always pays its own travel and lodging expenses, and generally also pays the conference fees. Periodically, when JWM sends more than one employee, the custodian may waive one of the registration fees to their sponsored conference.

The access to research and conference attendance by JWM provided by the custodians benefits all of our clients. JWM does not direct client transactions to brokers for specific research, or for client referral.

10. Custody

JWM send clients detailed portfolio reports quarterly. The custodians of the clients’ accounts send monthly statement directly to the clients. JWM urges clients to compare the account statements they receive from us with the custodian statements.

11. Investment Discretion

JWM assists clients in developing an investment policy and allocation strategy to achieve the policy. JWM cannot amend either without client permission.

JWM may recommend separate account managers to clients as part of their investment strategy. The client contracts directly with the separate account manager, and grants them discretionary trading authority. They are subject to the best-execution rules of the SEC or state regulators.

JWM clients generally grant investment discretion to JWM subject to the investment policy and asset allocation when they execute an advisory agreement. Some clients restrict investments in certain securities or industries. Some clients restrict trading in legacy positions that they hold.
12. Voting Client Securities

JWM does not vote client securities. JWM clients may receive proxy statement directly from the issuer. Where JWM clients express an interest in voting their proxy, and where the proxy statement is sent to JWM, JWM provides the proxy statement to the client. We may provide assistance or advice in voting the proxies.

Designations

JWM has employees with professional designations. Below is a brief description of each designation.

CFA Chartered Financial Analyst

The Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) charter is a globally respected, graduate-level investment credential established in 1962 and awarded by CFA Institute — the largest global association of investment professionals.

There are currently more than 90,000 CFA charterholders working in 134 countries. To earn the CFA charter, candidates must: 1) pass three sequential, six-hour examinations; 2) have at least four years of qualified professional investment experience; 3) join CFA Institute as members; and 4) commit to abide by, and annually reaffirm, their adherence to the CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct.

High Ethical Standards

The CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct, enforced through an active professional conduct program, require CFA charterholders to:

• Place their clients’ interests ahead of their own
• Maintain independence and objectivity
• Act with integrity
• Maintain and improve their professional competence
• Disclose conflicts of interest and legal matters

Global Recognition

Passing the three CFA exams is a difficult feat that requires extensive study (successful candidates report spending an average of 300 hours of study per level). Earning the CFA charter demonstrates mastery of many of the advanced skills needed for investment analysis and decision making in today’s quickly evolving global financial industry. As a result, employers and clients are increasingly seeking CFA charterholders—often making the charter a prerequisite for employment. Additionally, regulatory bodies in 22 countries and territories recognize the CFA charter as a proxy for meeting certain licensing requirements, and more than 125 colleges and universities around the world have incorporated a majority of the CFA Program curriculum into their own finance courses.
Comprehensive and Current Knowledge
The CFA Program curriculum provides a comprehensive framework of knowledge for investment decision making and is firmly grounded in the knowledge and skills used every day in the investment profession. The three levels of the CFA Program test a proficiency with a wide range of fundamental and advanced investment topics, including ethical and professional standards, fixed-income and equity analysis, alternative and derivative investments, economics, financial reporting standards, portfolio management, and wealth planning.

The CFA Program curriculum is updated every year by experts from around the world to ensure that candidates learn the most relevant and practical new tools, ideas, and investment and wealth management skills to reflect the dynamic and complex nature of the profession.

To learn more about the CFA charter, visit www.cfainstitute.org.

CPA Certified Public Accountant

The CPA designation is awarded by the American Institute of Certified Public Accounts. A candidate must have a university degree with a minimum number of credits, pass all four parts of a comprehensive exam, pass a subsequent ethics exam, and fulfill work requirements. A designee must complete continuing education to maintain the designation.

CRPC Chartered Retirement Planning Counselor

The CRPC designation is awarded by the College of Financial Planning, a regionally-accredited institution of higher education accredited by the Higher Learning Commission.

Individuals who hold the CRPC designation have completed a course of study encompassing pre- and post-retirement needs, asset management, estate planning and the entire retirement planning process using models and techniques from real client situations. The program is designed for approximately 120-150 hours of self-study. The program is self-paced and must be completed within one year from enrolment.

Individuals are required to pass an online, timed and proctored end-of-course examination with a 70% score or higher. The examination tests the individual’s ability to relate complex concepts and apply theoretical concepts to real-life situations.

After successful completion of the end-of-course exam, individuals apply for authorization to use the designation. Following initial conferment of the CRPC designation, authorization for continued use of the credential must be renewed every two years by completing 16 hours of continuing education, reaffirming compliance with the Standard of Professional Conduct, and complying with self-disclosure requirements.
The following disclosures apply to all of the advisors listed below.

i) Criminal or civil action related to fraud or violations of any securities laws or investment regulations;

JWM has an employee incentive program ("Growth Incentive Plan") that financially rewards employees for bringing new clients to the firm.
